"hard to imagine, impossible to forget... a truly exceptional experience for guests and performers alike"

Sarah Shephard, The Floe

NCE an ordinary house in an ordinary street, Talliston House & Gardens has been transformed into a wonderland of unique and inspirational locations. The Friends of Talliston is a non-profit private group created to preserve and restore the house, gardens and inventory. Membership is free and opens up a world of benefits and wonderful adventures.

Private dinners and celebrations

You truly haven't lived until you've dined at Talliston. With our passion for food and wine, our worldwide travels for recipes and global cuisine, we know a thing or two about catering for a variety of tastes – and tastebuds. Or how about theming your food to your location? Whatever you're celebrating, we have the perfect location right here and all under one roof. So whether it's a surprise romantic dinner-for-two in the treetops or an all-the-trimmings family feast in our Victorian dining room, we'll provide everything you need to make that special someone feel extraordinary from the moment they arrive.

Talliston Tours

Want to visit Talliston for an after-dark candlelit look around the house and gardens? Friends often join us for private tours of the project. Lasting two hours and ending with a traditional cream tea or light supper, these take place throughout the year.

Writer & Poetry Circles

These monthly evenings offer challenging and supportive group for all levels of talent and experience. Our aim is to inspire writers to create their best, most engaging new work – while newer writers gain the confidence to tell their story.

Volunteering

On select weekends throughout the year we open Talliston's doors to anyone and everyone who wants to help with the house and garden work in progress.

So, become a Friend of Talliston today, and start dreaming about how you'll spend your time within this magical house and gardens...
